

Polymer Connections

Collaborate with the polymers sector to develop new products and processes

a Bridging Borders event

Europa Hotel, Belfast, 26th September 2013

Who should attend?

Any business, cluster or research organisation who has an interest in Polymers. You might have expertise in Polymer Processing or you come from another sector which uses polymers. Plastics and Polymers have very diverse applications - from food packaging to medical devices. All sectors are welcome.

We will have a particular focus on Clusters. The Northern Ireland Polymers Association (NIPA) is assisting with the event, and other clusters represented will include PLASNET from Denmark.

What's on offer?

We will have stands where you can have a chat with experts from a range of support organisations such as Invest NI, Enterprise Ireland and Intertrade Ireland.

There will be a range of speakers, who will explain what help is available for companies innovating in this field.

A key part of the event will be the one to one meetings in the afternoon. You can create a profile of your yourself and outline your interests. Our system allows you to request a meeting and review any requests you receive. You will get a schedule of timings for your meetings. We can help you create a profile to attract the sort of collaborative partner you need.
